

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

April 24, 2007

FOR MORE INFORMATION

Cheryl Freeley, Business Development
757.623.1641, Extension 260

CASTERLOW JOINS MMM DESIGN GROUP AS STRUCTURAL ENGINEER

NORFOLK, Va—H. Dexter Casterlow, PE, has joined MMM Design Group as a structural engineer.

Casterlow has both a bachelor's and master's degree in civil engineering from North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University in Greensboro, NC. He brings almost 10 years of experience in structural design, safety inspections and project management to MMM.

His most recent experience includes that of commercial and government facilities. Casterlow is also an adjunct professor in Hampton University's Department of Architecture. He is a licensed engineer in Virginia and North Carolina.

MMM Design Group is a full-service architecture, engineering and planning firm headquartered in Norfolk, with a Central Virginia office in Charlottesville. The firm's multi-disciplined team of professional architects, landscape architects, interior designers, planners, civil, structural, electrical and mechanical engineers has experience with projects in the fields of higher education, defense, homeland security, criminal justice, transportation, recreation, environmental protection and historic restoration.

###